SADLER MAKES HIS REPORT.

Assistant State Auditor Makes His Report to the Governor, After Examining Volusia County Offices.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held in Deland this week, the following report from Assistant State Auditor W. B. Sadler to Governor Broward was read:

With the honor to report that on November 10th, 1905, I concluded an examination of the officers of Volusia County, to-wit: Clerk of the Circuit Court, Tax Collector, Treasurer, County Judge, Judge of the Criminal Court, Sheriff, Superintendent of Public Instruction and County Commissioners, with the following results:

I find that the Clerk of the Court is a very efficient officer; all the records in his office are correctly kept. As county auditor, he keeps accounts with all county officers required by him. I find that he has turned over to the County Treasurer all public moneys that have come into his hands, and that he has on hand or has accounted for all tax sale certificates with which he is charged.

The Tax Collector has collected and turned over to the County Treasurer all moneys collected by him on the Rolls of 1903 and 1904, and his accounts stand balanced.

The Sheriff has made monthly reports to the County Commissioners, and paid in to the county treasury all funds that have come into his hands.

The books of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Judges of the Criminal and County Courts are neatly and correctly kept.

I made a careful examination of the records of the Board of County Commissioners and find that in some instances warrants are issued to persons other than to whom payments are due, that is

ARMSTRONG BUYS INTEREST.

Secures Controlling Interest in East
Florida Telephone Company—Buys
From Walter J. Gamble.

B. L. Armstrong, of New London, Conn., has purchased a controlling interest in the East Florida Telephone Company. The interest which Mr. Armstrong acquires is a portion of what Walter J. Gamble owns.

The annual meeting of the officers of the Company will take place in February, and it is probable then that changes will be made in the service, tending to better conditions.

The officers at the present time are: Walter J. Gamble, President; W. H. Edmondson, Vice President; H. C. Thompson, Secretary, Treasurer and Manager.

To say, several receipted bills will be attached to one voucher aggregating an amount for which a warrant will issue to one person, who will pay the amount owing to the proper person. I think the only proper plan is that warrants be issued direct to the person to whom the amount is due, and that the minutes of the Board should show these items in detail as authority for issuance of the same.

I would respectfully urge that the minutes of the Board be published each month as required and also call the attention of the Board of County Commissioners to the case of Laimhart et al vs. Burr and others recently decided by the Supreme Court and reported in Southern Reporter and also to Chapter 5186, Laws of Florida.

A BIG LIST ALREADY.

Cars Representing Six Nations Will Be Here To Participate in the Ormond-Daytona Races.

That the race meet on the Ormond-Daytona Beach, in Florida, January 22d to 27th, inclusive, will be the most notable automobile speed tournament ever held becomes every day more apparent, says the Washington Star. One month ago thirty-six racing machines, representing six nations, were in preparation for the coming meet. Some doubt was expressed at the time that so many powerful cars would be taken to Florida, but the indications now are that the list will be considerably swelled before the closing of entries.

The list arranged in order of horsepower and brought up to date follows:

BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS MEETING.

Question of Booklets Discussed But Met
With Some Opposition.—Proposed
Auto Road Comes Up.

A meeting of the Daytona Board of Trade was held Wednesday afternoon in the office of Bingham & Thompson, with E. T. Conrad presiding.

The principal matter to come up was the question of issuing booklets descriptive of Daytona. A bid was received, and it was suggested that money for the purpose be raised by popular subscription. President Conrad objected to the move of issuing booklets, and he said the money raised for such a purpose should be applied to good roads. But he said if the town was going to have any more advertising, he thought that newspaper advertising judiciously placed would be the most effective.

The matter of building an automobile road between Daytona and Deland was discussed, but with no definite action. The matter was referred to the committee on roads, bridges and parks.

DANNY DEEVER
By Rudyard Kipling

RUDYARD KIPLING, the best known of living English writers, was born at Bombay, India, in 1865. He was educated in England and returned to India in 1882 to enter journalism. In 1889 he returned to England, and since then he has resided for a number of years in the United States and has also traveled much. Kipling's fame, already considered secure by contemporary critics, rests on both his prose and verse, his writings being marked by vigor and originality. In the opinion of many he has not yet reached the zenith of his powers. "The laureate of the British empire" now resides in England.

"WHAT are the bugles blowin' for?" said Files-on-Parade.
"To turn you out, to turn you out," the Color-Sergeant said.
"What makes you look so white, so white?" said Files-on-Parade.
"I'm drendin' what I've got to watch," the Color-Sergeant said.
For they're laughin' Danny Deever, you can 'ear the dead March play.
The regiment's in 'ollow square—they're laughin' him today;
They've taken of his buttons off an' cut his stripes away.
An' they're laughin' Danny Deever in the mornin'.

"What makes the rear rank breathe so 'ard?" said Files-on-Parade.
"It's bitter cold, it's bitter cold," the Color-Sergeant said.
"What makes that front rank man fall down?" said Files-on-Parade.
"A touch of sun, a touch of sun," the Color-Sergeant said.
They are laughin' Danny Deever, they are marchin' of 'im round.
They 'ave 'atted Danny Deever by 'is coffin on the ground.
An' 'e'll swing in 'arf a minute for a sneakin' shootin' hound—
Oh, they're laughin' Danny Deever in the mornin'.

"Is cot was right 'and cot to mine," said Files-on-Parade.
"E's sleepin' out an' far to night," the Color-Sergeant said.
"I've drunk 'is beer a score o' times," said Files-on-Parade.
"E's drinkin' bitter beer alone," the Color-Sergeant said.
They are laughin' Danny Deever, you must mark 'im to 'is place.
For 'e shot a comrade sleepin'—you must look 'im in the face;
Nine 'undred of 'is county an' the regiment's disgrace,
While they're laughin' Danny Deever in the mornin'.

"What's that so black agin the sun?" said Files-on-Parade.
"It's Danny fightin' 'ard for life," the Color-Sergeant said.
"What's that that whippers over 'ead?" said Files-on-Parade.
"It's Danny's soul that's passin' now," the Color-Sergeant said.
For they're done with Danny Deever, you can 'ear the quickstep play.
The regiment's in column, an' they're marchin' us away;
Ho! the young recruits are shakin', an' they'll want their beer today.
After 'avin' Danny Deever in the mornin'.

CHARIS, HER TRIUMPH
By Ben Jonson

"RARE BEN JONSON," so called on his tomb in Westminster abbey, ranks next to Shakespeare in the history of the British drama. Little is known of his early life, but his later years were very prolific of plays and poems. He died Aug. 6, 1637, being about sixty-four years of age. His plays are no longer acted or read except by students, but some of his lyrics are still popular.

SEE the chariot at hand here of Love,
Wherein my lady rideth!
Each that draws is a swan or a dove,
And well the car Love guideth.
As she goes, all hearts do duty
Unto her beauty,
And, enamored, do wish, so they might
But enjoy such sight.
That they still were to run by her side,
Through swords, through seas, whither she would ride.

Do but look on her eyes! They do light
All that Love's world compriseth.
Do but look on her hair! It is bright
As Love's star when it riseth!
Than words that soothe her! Than words that soothe her!
Do but mark, her forehead's smoother,
And from her arched brows such a grace
Sheds itself through thy face
As alone thy triumphs to the life.
All the gain, all the good, of the elements' strife.

Have you seen but a bright lily grow,
Before rude hands have touched it?
Have you marked but the fall of the snow,
Before the soft hath smothered it?
Have you felt the wool of the heaver,
Or swan's down ever,
Or have smelled of the bud of the brier,
Or the hard of the fire,
Or have tasted the bag of the bee?
Oh, so white! Oh, so soft! Oh, so sweet is she!

St. Nicholas of Myra.
All that is known with any certainty of Nicholas is the bare fact that he lived in Asia Minor somewhere about the beginning of the fourth century. He was bishop of Myra, a Lycian seacoast town, venerable, of course, for his piety and benevolence, and he was revered in the east at least as early as the sixth century. In the Greek church he takes rank immediately after the five great fathers, and under the name of St. Nicholas of Myra he is esteemed as patron saint of by far the largest body of Orthodox Greeks, the Russian empire. As early as the year 500 Justinian dedicated a church in Constantinople to the renowned bishop. In the west, where for a reason he is more commonly known as St. Nicholas of Bari, he was acclimated for good in the eleventh century. His vogue in the north began with the twelfth, but extended so rapidly that by the thirteenth he probably possessed in England alone more churches and chapels dedicated in his honor than any other holy personage.—Catholic Magazine.

Experimented With Poisons.
When Antony and Cleopatra were contemplating suicide they made a collection of a great variety of poisons and tried each of them on two or more slaves in order to ascertain whether death was accompanied with much apparent suffering. One historian declares that over 200 persons lost their lives in order that the information might be obtained. The result was that Antony killed himself with a dagger and Cleopatra either with one of her selected poisons or by a serpent's bite.

Two Relatives.
Bess—Charlie, will you tell me what time it is? I've left my watch at my aunt's. Charlie—Awfully sorry, but I can't. I've left mine at my uncle's.

Even beauty cannot palliate eccentricity.—Balzac.

Antiquity of Soap.
The origin of soap is a mystery, but we have many evidences of its antiquity.
It is mentioned at least twice in the Bible under the name of birth at a period corresponding to several centuries before Christ. In the Louvre in Paris there is an interesting old vase of Etruscan manufacture whose age is computed at about 2,500 years. It is interesting in connection with our subject as bearing a group of children in relief who are engaged in blowing bubbles from pipes. Though we must not overlook the fact that certain vegetable juices are capable of being used in blowing bubbles, it is for many reasons more probable that soap of artificial manufacture was employed for the purpose. In the unearthen city of Pompeii, the preservation of which has been the means of revealing to us many antique customs, there is to be seen a soap manufactory, with all the kettles and other paraphernalia pertaining to the business; also a quantity of soap, evidently the product of this antique "soapery." The memorable volcanic eruption, while removing a city from the face of the earth, preserved to us
the evidences of a high civilization.

Name Suggested.

Within the past several days, a great many telephone conversations have been received at The Daily News office, as to who Daytona will vote on to crown the Speed King.

In a letter received this morning,
the name of Miss Bevie Hughes was suggested. She is the charming and popular young daughter of Colonel Hughes.
She has a great many friends who will voluntarily work for her success.

Some of the friends of Miss Bevie
Hughes are working in her behalf.

Quarterly Visit.

Rev. S. Taylor, pastor in charge of the East Coast Baptist Church, will make his first quarterly visit to the M. E. Church, South, Kingston, and preach at Sunday, Jan. 26, at 11 a.
m. and 7 p. m. All are cordially invited to hear him. He is the Rev. Dr. P. Davis, who served the East Coast Baptist two years and at the last session of the Conference was elected pastor of the Florida
Christian Church.

Really News.

Smith & Thomas have sold the Cal
Walker lot on First Avenue to B. W.
Hawley, of Daytona. The purchaser expects to begin the erection of a college at an early date.

The United Fruit, of Daytona Beach,
has been sold by W. M. Shaffer to Mrs.
Charles Smith. Extensive renovations and improvements will be made to the estate. Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer expect to make it their future home.

The Tucker House on Palmerton Avenue has been sold to Jacob Reese by W.
M. Shaffer. Mr. Reese and family will occupy the house this season.

J. C. Vetter, Jr., of Palatka, is spending a day or two in the city with friends.

Secured the Money.

Marshall Zeller tells an interesting story as to how he got the money, when,
for some time past, have been pilfered from in this city. He says that he gave Ed Leonard, one of the menbers, a $5 bill to go to the owner, and return the money of the others. Since then he has found out that Leonard was one of the men, and after receiving the money, found out the position. He is determined to have a sign of the man, returned to the owner, and when he received, came out of the man and a white card.
The Marshall is of the opinion that this man's records are of the class that do not wish to be known.

ALL ALONG THE EAST COAST ...

GREAT RUSH TO FLORIDA.

Within a Few Days Many Tourists
Will Be Coming From The North To The East Coast.

Florida is the favorite winter resort of America, and the tourist is almost being by the thousands.
The hotels are now open and are doing a thriving business. The larger of the East Coast hotels will not be open until next week, but when these doors are open it means the mighty rush of the Northerners who seek escape from the icy blasts and to grips.

All over the State even at the present time, the tourists can be seen. Hundreds leave their winter homes in the North, and most of them are now enroute. Hundreds of hotels and boarding houses have guests who intend to remain until spring.

Florida, with the most magnificent climate in the world, is almost a resort for those who would escape the hardships and the intense cold. Easily accessible from all parts of the country, and with unimpaired transportation facilities,
the State has long since eclipsed California, and all other winter resorts.

The great work of Henry M. Flagler in developing the East Coast of the State, and building palatial hotels has given the State a name that extends over the whole world. No other point to finer hotels and they are admirably conducted. Mr. Flagler has spent millions of dollars on the East Coast, and his extension of his railway to Key West means the expenditure of several millions more.

As an evidence of what Mr. Flagler has done, it is only necessary to say that within three months, the early part of this year, 100,000 people had registered at the hotels. Mr. Flagler's hotels are known all over the world, but they form only three resorts in one section of the State. In every portion of Florida there are magnificent hotels, and the State is consequently well equipped to handle the visitors.

The New Books.

The new city books are expected here by the 15th from Jacksonville, at which time they will be installed by F. G.
Hatchinson, an expert accountant of the metropolis. The books will cost approximately $400, but it will be the means of telling exactly the condition of any of the city's funds at any time after the first of each month. There will be six books, and City Clerk Wilkinson says that it will be necessary for him to hire a bookkeeper.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its narrowest point and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live oak and live oak and live oak, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interposed tall tropical palm trees, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-barked holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the anemone-like clematis and other vines, the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. The river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those seeking homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, lily water works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach
lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a barely visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of

DOUGLASS

The wheel and vehicles are in touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at eddies, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and also a safe place for surf bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheephead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

Low Tide on the Beach.

Our Women's Shoes

Madam, we ask that you take a look at our new Shoes. You can't help but notice how different they are from the kind of Shoes most stores sell. They have a handsome

"ade for You Alone Appearance."

We claim our Women's Shoes to be the perfection of Shoe making and we assume all risks.

Patent Kid, Patent Calf, Vici and Gun Metal Calf are some of the good leathers. Straight or swing lasts—medium or narrow toes, Cuban or regular heels—Lace, Button or Blucher—Our talk may be similar to that of other Shoe stores, but you'll see at once that our Shoes are different.
